CLINIQUE
VETERINAIRE

The image shows a window display for a veterinary clinic. The window is set in a weathered, light-colored stone wall. The display features horizontal blinds that are partially closed. In the center of the window, there is a framed poster of a dog. Above the poster, the text 'CLINIQUE VETERINAIRE' is written in large, white, sans-serif capital letters. Above the text, there is a stylized logo consisting of two curved lines forming a shape reminiscent of the letters 'U' and '2'. The window frame is dark, and the overall scene is captured in a slightly grainy, photograph-like style.

A Thomson television set is shown from a front-facing perspective, resting on a carpeted floor. The screen is black and displays a poem in white text. The text is centered and reads: "One day, from morning to evening, I switched on the television. On the hour, every hour, For twenty hours. Determined to find something to watch, I found nothing. Sorry." The Thomson logo is visible on the bottom bezel of the TV.

One day,
from morning to evening,
I switched on the television.
On the hour, every hour,
For twenty hours.
Determined to find something to watch,
I found nothing.
Sorry.
